Wills and Legacies by Nicki Denton-Masih

For people who may find it difficult to make significant gifts to charities such as "The Friends of Luton Parish Church" during their lifetime, making this Charity a beneficiary in your Will is a way of ensuring that money which you no longer need is put to good use and, at the same time, you may reduce your estate's liability to Inheritance Tax. Some seven out of ten adults who die in this country fail to make a Will, and if you do not make a Will, then your estate will be divided up according to how the law dictates it should, and not necessarily as you would have wished.

It is always advisable to instruct a Solicitor to make sure your Will is properly drawn up, valid and enforceable, and to ensure that your Will reflects your wishes. If you already have a Will, it is possible to include a legacy to The Friends in your Will by having a codicil drawn up, and this is a simple and inexpensive process.

If you would like to leave a legacy to The Friends of Luton Parish Church, your Solicitor might find the following wording useful:

"I give to the Friends of Luton Parish Church (registered Charity Number 240750) the sum of pounds (£.....) for its general purposes".

Canon David Cheetham MBE

It is with sadness that we report the recent death of David Cheetham, who for a number of years was a Trustee and Chairman of the Friends of Luton Parish Church. He was a keen supporter of the Trust and the Church, and attended our annual services and other functions until ill health made it difficult for him to do so.

For a number of years, David was a Solicitor in practice in Luton, and his legal skills were recognised at various times if questions arose during the Trust's administration.

We consider that we were blessed with his interest and involvement over the years.
